

Deciphering Health Care Delivery

Wed, May 18th
Carson LO1
5:00 PM

Come learn about the structure and problems of the health care system,
and how the current administration
plans to improve it.

Elliott S. Fisher MD, MPH

Director, Center for Population Health
The Dartmouth Institute

Dr. Fisher is a general internist whose research focuses on exploring both the causes and the implications for health and health policy of regional variations in Medicare spending and practice.

Denise Anthony PhD

Associate Professor of Sociology
Dartmouth College

Dr. Anthony's research interests include economic sociology and the sociology of health care. She has studied variation in managed care practices across the U.S., and how organizational incentives and communication networks affect physician's referral behavior and career satisfaction.
