

PB Concerts, Moon Jelly Productions & A Spider Monkey Productions Present:

JANUARY 9TH, 2012:

AVICII

On January 9th, 2012, PB Concerts will bring Swedish house music legend Avicii to Dartmouth College for a club and lounge style concert. Avicii will be playing at Dartmouth as part of his charity tour, House for Hunger, which is conducted in association with FeedingAmerica.org. For this event, PB Concerts invites Avicii to rock the dance floor with high energy feel-good progressive house beats. Recently receiving a global DJ ranking of 6 in the world from the internationally recognized DJ Mag poll, this show will be part of the start of yet another incredible year of sold out shows and hit singles. One of his best known tracks, Le7els, has received wide recognition and has been declared “The Tune of 2011” by none other than the current number-one ranking DJ David Guetta. His monthly podcast, named Le7els after the song, is one of the most highly downloaded of all music podcasts on iTunes.

Opening for Avicii will be Dartmouth Alum DJ Friendly Greg. Greg holds residency at a number of clubs in NYC, placed eighth in Pioneer’s inaugural Let’s Mix! Next Generation DJ Competition, has played at such events as SXSW and has opened for or played with an impressive roster of artists including Ellie Goulding, A-Trak, Jason DeRulo, Three 6 Mafia, Passion Pit, Chiddy Bang, Wale, and Mike Posner.
