

Sustainability Office Internship Program- Summer 2012

Sustainability and the Arts

This intern explores and fosters stronger connections between sustainability and the arts on campus. He/she will be responsible for developing an action plan for how the Sustainability Program can connect to and support the Year of the Arts (2012-13) and for being the lead on the first several actions described in this plan. We are seeking a self-starter who can think critically about how our office can use the arts to strengthen, diversify, and broaden the reach of sustainability on our campus and in the world, and vice versa. How can we improve the creativity of our messaging and use the arts to advance our goal of becoming a global leader in sustainability? Have an answer? Apply!

1 intern, 4-8 hours per week. $10/hr.

Sustainability Operations Action Research (SOAR) Intern

Be part of a new multi-campus sustainability research program! The Sustainable Operations Action Research (SOAR) intern will help address a disconnect between sustainability implementation, campus operations, and research. This intern will investigate key questions in a collaborative research environment with other SOAR interns at other Ivy-Plus sustainability programs – including attending at least one off campus intern symposium over the summer. The intern will compile and present, in collaboration with SOAR interns from other Ivy Plus schools, a report of his/her findings on a specific research question. This intern will gain essential sustainability leadership skills and accelerate effective decision-making in shared challenges at the local/institutional scale. Dartmouth College and the University of Chicago are research partners.

1 Intern, 10 hours per week. $10/hr

Dartlist Development Intern

Dartlist (dartlist.com) was a website launched in August 2011 by the Sustainability Office to facilitate the trade of furniture and used goods among students, faculty and staff on campus. Our goal was Craigslist but only for users with a dartmouth.edu email account. Since its launch over 10,000 users have created accounts to use and view the site and there have been 100s of items posted. But we can make it better! We are seeking an intern to spend the summer developing Dartlist 2.0 – a better, updated, more user friendly version that can be advertised broadly to campus and become part of the student-stuff-exchange culture! Website design skills necessary.

1 Intern, 5 hours per week. $10/hr

Sustainable Moving Sale Work Crew

The Sustainable Moving Sale Work Crew is the heart and soul of the Sustainable Moving Sale – one of our biggest and most visible events! The Sustainable Moving Sale repurposes dorm items donated by Dartmouth students for resale to incoming freshmen. In addition to tackling a huge waste problem on campus and raising money for student grants, the Sale is an opportunity to welcome incoming freshmen. The Moving Sale Crew will work as a team, once a week for a set period of time at the Sustainable Moving Sale warehouse and under the guidance of the Sustainable Moving Sale Crew Chief, will clean, sort, organize, and test merchandise to be sold in the fall. We are seeking can-do, action-oriented, team members who enjoy the glamorous work of lifting and cleaning mini-fridges, spontaneous dance parties, and dips in the river!

Up to 5 interns, 3-5 hours/week, $10/hr
