The Diversity and Community Affairs Committee (otherwise known as DivCom) facilitates interactions between different groups on campus and challenges the greater student body to think critically about their identity and place at Dartmouth. DivCom also analyzes structures at Dartmouth and recommends changes to the Administrative and Board of Trustees that promote a more inclusive community. This upcoming year DivCom plans to work closely with the Inter-Community Council and Office of Pluralism and Leadership to address hate speech, acts of intolerance and to promote a greater understanding of how to report bias. DivCom meets on Sundays at 5:00pm.

The Alcohol and Harm Reduction Committee promotes safe student behavior. The committee analyzes drinking culture, as well as other aspects of Dartmouth nightlife. The committee will also look at how to encourage more students to undergo anti-sexual violence training. A&HR hopes to facilitate cooperation between different harm reduction groups and the administration. The Committee seeks input on how the Assembly can support the existing initiatives of groups such as SPCSA, GLC, IFC and Panhell. The Alcohol & Harm Reduction Committee meets Mondays at 8:00pm.

The Academic Affairs Committee responds to student needs and interests in all facets of Dartmouth academic life. The Committee works primarily with faculty and the Dean of the College to enhance undergraduate academic experience and facilitate student faculty interactions. This year the committee will investigate making banner student course reviews accessible to the student body. The work continues alongside such projects such as the Profiles in Excellence Teaching Awards and Take a Professor to Lunch program. The Academic Affairs Committee meets Wednesdays at 3:00pm.

The Student Services Committee provides services to improve the day-to-day quality of life of all students. Historically, this has included programmed trips to Boston and New York as well as subsidized coach tickets. This Fall, the committee will look at making the Collegiate Readership program more accessible and affordable for students, potentially through online access to the New York Times. The Student Services Committee meets Thursdays at 6:30pm.

The Marketing Committee has two primary responsibilities. The first is to promote initiatives that the Assembly undertakes as well as assure officers of the Assembly are visible and accountable to the student body they serve. In addition to advertising projects for the Assembly, the Committee also actively solicits student feedback and reports that
