

Sustainability Office Internship Program Spring 2015

Spring Farm Intern

Ready to work in a greenhouse, plant seeds, help plan crops for the year, eat delicious, local food, learn about sustainability, and help make Dartmouth a global, sustainability leader? Seeking motivated farm interns to support our spring farm operations and increase student, faculty, and staff engagement with the farm. This intern will organize faculty and staff engagement activities at the farm and support student events and farm programming. Additionally, this intern will support necessary prep work in production fields and greenhouses to kick off a successful growing season. Seeking a can-do individual who is excited about making the farm an integral part of Dartmouth's sustainability future. Previous food and agriculture experience a plus, but not necessary! Must be able to lift 50 lbs. 5-8 hours per week, $10 per hour.

Sustainable Moving Sale Manager

Started by students in 2006, the Sustainable Moving Sale is one of the biggest sustainability events of the year! Ready to introduce first years to sustainability at Dartmouth and integrate them into the sustainability culture on campus? Ready to keep literally tons of waste out of landfills? Seeking two enthusiastic individuals with LOTS of energy, enthusiasm, organizational and management skills to help us continue to grow and evolve this event. Moving Sale Managers are responsible for overseeing sale logistics, event planning, advertising, coordinating a crew of workers who help clean and sort donations, and making the entire experience fun and rewarding for everyone! The sale has a huge impact on incoming first-years and sends a clear message during orientation that Dartmouth cares about sustainability. Help us make this year's sale more awesome than ever! Must be on-campus and able to work both spring and summer term, spring/summer interim, and summer/fall interim (some flexibility possible). 2 Interns, 5 hours per week, $10 per hour.
