Over the past 200 years, JPMorgan Chase has been committed to building the best financial services company in the world. We owe our success to the talented individuals whose backgrounds and perspectives deliver innovative solutions for our clients and customers around the world. That's why we're passionate about attracting, developing and retaining the best diverse talent.

As we plan for the next 200 years, we're looking for tomorrow's leaders who will bring their unique perspectives and experiences to our work. The Freshman Experience and Sophomore Development Fellowship offer ambitious and passionate students who self-identify as Black, Hispanic or Native American an exciting opportunity. These programs will help you discover your potential and jump start your future.

Bring your ambition. Take the opportunity.

Passion, drive and ambition. How do you turn these qualities into a career? Practice. At JPMorgan Chase we provide our employees with the training and development they need to grow personally and professionally throughout their careers. And this commitment starts early on. We offer programs designed to help top diverse students identify their strengths, build their skills, and ignite their interests.

Freshman Experience

Big opportunity in the Big Apple

This program will help you discover your individual potential and prepare you for opportunities as you consider your future.

Over the course of two days, you'll meet with senior leaders, build your network, develop leadership skills and explore the financial services industry. You'll also participate in workshops and training, and have the support of our leaders every step of the way.

Timing: Two-day sessions hosted at our global headquarters in New York City.

Option 1: April 20 - April 21 2017

Option 2: April 27 - April 28 2017

Sessions will be assigned based on availability and open slots.

Qualifications and next steps

These programs are open to students who have a cumulative 3.2 GPA or above, who self-identify as Black, Hispanic or Native American, and expect to graduate in 2020 for the Freshman Experience or 2019 for the Sophomore Development Fellowship. Candidates from all majors who meet the criteria are encouraged to apply today.

Sophomore Development Fellowship

Our investment in your development

This three-month program will expand your knowledge of financial services, sharpen your technical and professional skill sets, and accelerate your career.

As a Fellow, you will experience JPMorgan Chase and learn about our businesses by attending workshops in both our Chicago and New York offices. Through a series of in-person and virtual sessions, you will build your professional skills, develop your financial knowledge and enhance your career readiness.

Timing: June 2017 - August 2017

Students accepted as a Sophomore Fellow will be expected to complete all program components from the live events in Chicago and New York, as well as the virtual projects and assignments.
