Featuring extramural scientific and education program leaders of the National Science Foundation

The National Science Foundation (NSF) will convene a one-day workshop at Cold Spring Harbor Laboratory, on October 22, 2013. The workshop is intended to assist new faculty and other research scientists and educators from the New York and the northeast region to learn more about the full scope of NSF supported research and education programs and priorities and to better understand the NSF grant proposal and merit review process.

Please register by visiting http://meetings.cshl.org/meetingsregistration\_nic.asp
A tentative agenda is attached and can also be found on the registration page.

Support from the Alfred P. Sloan Foundation has been secured by CSHL to help defray participant costs so that registration fees can be held to a minimum.

Please note that the conference is targeting faculty and is not anticipated to cover grants management or administrative compliance related issues. Concurrent breakout sessions during the day are anticipated to include:

- Biological Sciences, Computer & Information Science,
- Engineering,
- Education and Human Resources,
- Geosciences,
- Mathematical and
- Physical Sciences, Social, Behavioral, and Economic Sciences.

For general inquiries, please contact Dana Lynn-Swenson (dswenson@cshl.edu or 516 367-6848). Limited funds to partially offset attendance costs for those in real financial need are available by applying in writing via email to Dana Lynn-Swenson by stating your need for financial support.

PLEASE REGISTER EARLY SINCE SPACE IS LIMITED!
